ICLIE 2021

THE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON LOGISTICS AND INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING

INVITATION LETTER

Dear Colleagues,

I am writing this email to kindly invite you to the International Conference on Logistics and Industrial Engineering 2021 (ICLIE) which is organized by Van Lang University (VLU). ICLIE 2021 will be held on 28/08/2021, hosted by Van Lang University in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam.

ICLIE conference is a one-day conference providing a perfect platform for leading researchers, educators, software developers, and practitioners to discuss about the current issues, along with sharing ideas and experiences on the latest development in the field of Industrial Systems Engineering, Logistics and Supply Chain Management, as well as Management Science. Furthermore, this conference also seeks opportunities to unfold the new era of business collaboration through Logistics and Supply Chain Management Systems in the global market.

It is our great honor to welcome the faculties and students at your university/institution to participate in ICLIE 2021. We would greatly appreciate if you could disseminate information about this conference to the colleagues and students at your university/institution.

The detailed information of this event is as follows:

- Time & Date: 28/08/2021
- Location: Van Lang University, Campus 3, Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam

If you need further information, please do not hesitate to contact Dr. Nguyen Van Thanh, Vice Chairman of ICLIE 2021 via email thanh.nguyenvan@vlu.edu.vn or phone number: +84 98 888 9940

Sincerely,

CONFERENCE AIMS

The theme of ICLIE 2021 is: "Industrial Engineering and Supply Chain Management in the Global business environment". Nowadays, as the world is becoming heavily integrated, supply chains are becoming more vulnerable to disruptions such as pandemics and natural disasters. Furthermore, the mounting pressure of environmental and socio-economic problems is becoming more apparent. These issues, coupled with the ever changing and growth of technologies, are creating new and exciting challenges for modern supply chains when the integration between physical and cyber systems, as well as resilience to unpredictable events, are becoming decisive to organizations' operational and long-term success. The International Conference on Logistics and Industrial Engineering (ICLIE) is an international forum for leading researchers, educators, software developers, and practitioners to discuss current issues, share ideas and experiences on the latest development in the field of Industrial System Engineering, Logistics and Supply Chain Management, and Management Science.
